Now in its thirty-first season, the Ars Antiqua Concert Series is devoted to performances of 17th & 18th-century music on historical instruments. These critically acclaimed performances are enhanced by guest speakers and illustrated program books which help place the music within the context of baroque art and social history. The intimate English Gothic-style Church of St. Mary the Virgin provides a rare opportunity to hear period instruments at close vantage in an exquisite architectural setting. The audience is invited to meet the artists at a reception after each concert and enjoy food that has been designed to complement the musical style of each program.
